Alma Mater Song

O, alma Mater,
Our alma Mater,
To you we bring our loving praise,
With school days ended,
Our lives have blended,
With those you taught in younger days,
To pray and labour,
To love a neighbour,
A sweet bouquet for all to see.
O, alma Mater,
Our alma Mater,
Our guiding star in life you'll be.

O Sacred Heart Academy
With you our thoughts shall e'er remain.
Our lives are yours to mold for us,
May they retain your noble touch.
We'll strive, unharmed by life, to gain,
The goal that you have shown to us—
God grant we may reflect from you
Your spirit loyal, pure and true.
School ends—but never ends our love.

His Excellency Most Reverend Michael C. O'Neill
Archbishop of Regina

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THE MOST REVEREND
MICHAEL CORNELIUS O'NEILL
FOURTH ARCHBISHOP OF REGINA
AS A TESTIMONIAL OF ESTEEM
AND GOOD WISHES
THE STUDENTS OF
SACRED HEART ACADEMY
DEDICATE
THEIR FOURTH YEAR BOOK

1948

Welcome

The students of Sacred Heart Academy joined their rejoicing to the joy of Catholics throughout the archdiocese of Regina as the time drew near when their Archbishop-elect should take possession of his throne in the metropolitan see of Regina. Reports of his consecration by His Eminence, James Cardinal McGuigan, in Edmonton, were eagerly read as they appeared in our newspapers. We were more fortunate as regards his reception in Regina, for students of S.H.A. (how they did it is for themselves to answer) were present at the ceremony of installation on Wednesday, April 21, and at the Pontifical Mass the following morning.

Our enthusiasm reached its height, however, when His Excellency visited our school, Tuesday, April 27. After his Mass at Holy Rosary Cathedral, His Excellency accompanied by his mother, Mrs. H. O'Neill, was received in the Academy auditorium, by the Sisters and students. Miss Margaret Brankin, president of the S.S.C., voiced the welcome felt by every member of the student body. Miss Catherine O'Brien, prefect of the Sodality, presented a spiritual bouquet to His Excellency, and Miss Lila Fahlman, a bouquet of red and white carnations to Mrs. O'Neill.

His Excellency thanked us most cordially, asked for a continued remembrance before God, and promised many more visits to us. That we appreciated his visit is doubly certain, for with his episcopal blessing he gave us something else—can you guess?—a half-holiday.

A Word from our Chaplain

Good morning, Girls:

"Happy" is the word, for happy I am that you are looking to me for a word from God. God bless you, my dear friends! May you remember always that it is your duty to diffuse all the happiness and joy you can about you, and continue to look on the bright side of life. Everyone of you I have known, from one to four years, as a cheerful youth by your hearty "Good morning, Father" (even though it was a quarter past twelve). Girls, do not forget to say it—say it to your parents, your brothers and sisters, to your schoolmates, your teachers. Say it cheerfully and with a smile—it will do you good and do your friends good.

Be cheerful! It is the key to a happy life; it is a mark of distinction, of difference; for different you are and different you should always be.

To the Commercial students and to the Graduating Class of 1948, on this, the eve of leaving their Alma Mater to assume their place in life, I can offer no more fruitful thought for their guidance in life than an old motto, held and practised by St. Agnes, St. Cecilia, St. Thomas More, and so many other Saints: "Let us be different." St. Thomas More, being chancellor of the realm of England, was imprisoned in the Tower of London and eventually met with martyrdom for refusing to take an oath which would sully his conscience. More could not tell a lie, he would not be a party to sin even in exchange for the riches and pleasures the world offered him. The bitterest moment in the saint's sad ordeal came about early in the morning of July 6, 1335. He was on the way from the tower to the scaffold, when he met his wife and family: Margaret, Elizabeth, Cecily and John. He did indeed love them dearly; yet he loved God more than all of them.

Friends, may it please God that the days are past and gone when men and women must spill their blood to show themselves followers of Christ. But, students, you are facing a sinful world and unless you here and now determine and make bold to be different, the occasions of the world will meet up with you, offering you riches and pleasures that will sully your conscience, weaken your faith and place you in the bitterest moment of your life. You, perhaps, will find yourself face to face making your choice between God, "Whom you now love above all things", and a man whom you wish to marry in disobedience to the divine ecclesiastical law. Students, no man is worthy of you unless he makes bold to be different and wholeheartedly supports you in keeping before your mind your school motto: "We work, not for school, but for life; we toil, not for time, but for eternity."

My earnest prayer for all—May God bestow on you supernatural prudence, that gift of divine common sense, to love God more than all creatures.

M. F. DALEY.

EDITOR'S THANKS

It is the desire of the Record staff to express its whole-hearted appreciation to all who have helped to make its publication possible. Especially are we grateful—

To our Chaplain and Faculty for their guidance and encouragement;

To our able Advisor for her assistance and approval;

To the students for their artistic and literary contributions;

To Campion Camera Club for special interest and "camera clicks";

To the Royal Studio and Peerless Printers for their efforts to make this year book a success;

To our advertisers with the hope that they may receive added patronage;

To our parents for giving us the opportunity to attend S.H.A.

EDITORIAL

The year 1947-48 has sped by on the wings of time and is fast slipping into eternity. Before we cross its threshold into a new life or into a new school year, we instinctively pause to look back and ask ourselves a few questions. Has this been a worthwhile year in our lives—have we made progress in academic work,—in character development? Have we improved ourselves and others by exemplifying a true school spirit? And what of next year. . . .

School spirit is to the school what personality is to the person. It is that elusive quality which is so essential to the success of all school life. It is that something that forces you to cheer your team and makes it fight to the very last whistle. It is the pain we feel when one of us is hurt, or the joy we experience when one of us has won an honor. It is the act of sticking together, pulling together and rising or falling together—all for the school, of which each one of us is a living, active part. Whatever we do, be it at school or at home, at work or at play, we do it as part of S.H.A. As students, our actions will naturally be used as a standard by which to judge our school. It is, therefore, the duty of each individual member of our Academy to leave behind a good impression. The reputation of every student will help to make or break the name of the school.

Our duty in connection with school spirit does not end with graduation day—not by any means. The name of the school, where we learned to cope with life's problems, is indelibly stamped on all we do till the day of our death. A true school spirit, therefore, consists in doing at all times nothing we would be ashamed of, nothing that would detract from the good reputation of our school, but rather something that would add to its good name. How better can this be done than by living up to our Catholic principles, by continuing to set a good example, now and tomorrow, always remembering our motto:

*"We work, not for school, but for life;
We toil, not for time, but for eternity."*

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Graduates:

As you are setting out on a new stage of life's journey, I wish you the courage and generosity of soul that will enable you to fulfil with fidelity the duties which await you in the future. Yes, I beseech God to enable you to strive perseveringly after the ideals set before you during your years at the Academy. You will thus be worthy of your title as children of God, and your lives will be productive of great good to all with whom you come in contact. May Mary Immaculate ever shield you amidst the perils of the times.

God bless you!

Graduates*

OUR FLOWER

"The Rose"

OUR MOTTO

*"We work, not for school, but for life;
We toil, not for time, but for eternity."*

Loretta Seiferling—

"The perfect woman, nobly plann'd."
Nice things come in small packages.

Margaret Brankin—

"This wild Irish person doth pester me so."
She's the main reason for the success of our
S.S.C. activities.

Joan Kleisinger—

"A waking eye, a prying mind, a heart that stirs."
Latin may be a dead language but Latin classes aren't.

Aniela Raczynski—

"Life is real; life is earnest."
We foretell a successful future — could it be teaching?

Ann Murphy—

"O, mistress, where are you roaming?"
She sees to it that we don't suffer malnutrition.

Marie Stein—

"All the world's a stage."
Drama and debating are her present and perhaps future interests.

Lorraine Bollinger—

"Gentle thoughts and calm desires."
Has her heart set on a secretarial course.

Loretto Doherty—

"But all their music spoke not like thine."
She's already on the way to a musical career.

Lorraine Eisworth—

"There are twelve months in all the year;
but July and August are merriest."
One of the few who think before they speak.

Genevieve Hogan—

"Ne'er talk of wisdom, gloomy schools."
Our hard-working class president.

Rose Hager—

"Ambition this shall tempt to rise."
Our future Florence Nightingale.

Dorothy Plante—

"Eyes, ears took in their dole; brain treasured up the whole."
Silent but thoughtful.

Lorraine Cantelope—

"There came a nymph, dancing."
Never a dull moment for her at a "platter party".

Clara Elliot—

"A lovelier flower on earth was never sown."
If she intends to make a career of studying, she's a success already.

Genevieve Jacobs—

"To no one muse does she her glance confine."
Versatility Incorporated — musician and pedagogue.

Claire Himbeault—

"There's not one more in all this world like our own Claire."
As cheerful as the day.

Carmelle Langlais—

"She tips the peaks with light and drives the clouds away."
Toujours gaie.

Helen Grudnitski—

"Laugh and be merry."
Too bad the teachers don't see eye to eye with Helen.

Antonia Eberle—

"I gazed at the walls and puzzled and wondered."

The small girl with the big armful of books.

Irene Schmidt—

"Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever."

Trigonometry proved an unconquerable obstacle.

Theresa Bahr—

"One have I marked, the happiest guest."

A rare combination—studious yet imaginative.

Shirley Fahlman—

"Still the question I must parry."

Work today spells success tomorrow.

Rosemaire O'Flanagan—

"Alike the busy and the gay flutter through life's little day."

An Irish rose—thorns extracted.

Marian Ouellette—

"Is there no end of labour?"

She manages our bowling teams.

Betty Gropp—

"Where are you going with your eager face and fiery grace?"
Busy as a bee.

Lois Eisler—

"Illusion makes the better part of life."
An expert at map-drawing — practice makes perfect.

Camille Leibel—

"There is sweet music there that softer falls."
Would we heard more of her virtuoso technique.

Marion Kingdon—

"Earth has not anything to show more fair."
Latin provides a noon-hour occupation.

Marceline Gilbert—

"She of the tall building and goodly pride."
Basketball proved fatal to Marcie.

Lee Ritter—

"Let schoolmasters puzzle their brains."
Our class impersonator.

Alice Cozine—

"To catch the thought by painting spell."
She lacks only an artist's eccentricity.

Audrey Holmlund—

"Eyes of blue, hair of gold, lips that much of laughter hold."
For perfect happiness—abolition of exams.

Marion Adams—

"She held her pen in trust to art."
Better late than never!

Dolores Molter—

"The longer one lives the more one learns."
She prefers a front seat during ...

Delia Baart—

"I think her happy smile is heard."
The little lady who enjoys everything but study.

Jean Klemke—

"There are sounds of mirth in the night air ringing."
Another "Lady of the Lamp".

Dorothy Biegler—

"Speak the speech I pray you."
Our drama enthusiast who finds time for "Dance, ballerina, dance."

Nona Cox—

"In faith, lady, you have a merry heart."
Interested in French, basketball, and hockey.

Benedicta Schulte—

"With thoughts that lie too deep for words."
Our room representative knows how to plan a good dinner.

Henrietta Ulrich—

"While some on earnest business bent."
Wisdom doesn't depend on age.

Marie Gazda—

"There is delight in singing."
Our prima donna—opera or concert stage?

ACADEMY GIRL

*Dressed in navy and white,
She's pretty and neat;
Her bright eyes are gentle
Her smile pure and sweet.
She's always well mannered
Where'er she may go;
She ne'er is outspoken
Her voice, soft and low.
She's kind and she's truthful,
She's helpful and good,
She goes to Our Lady
For help, as she should.
A gift to the world,
A diamond, a pearl
Would describe a model
Academy Girl.*

M. EHMAN, XI.

GRADE XI

Pat Berthiaume—

First love—basketball,
after that—school!

Roselyn Biegler—

Our entertainer—when she gets here.

Pat Bourdeau—

Plays a little; studies some—nuff said.

Lillian Boutin—

Came late but surely made up for it.

Patsy Brankin—

Joy walks hand in hand with duty.

Rose Campeau—

Smile and the world smiles with you.

Elinor Mae Chisholm—

Her life has many a hope and aim.

To her the days, the hours mean music.

Solange Dumonceaux—

A dark-haired miss with a gleam in her eye.

Suzanne Dupmeier—

Smiling, understanding, zestful—that's Suz.

Marcia Ehman—

Assigned homework is like air—necessary.

Norah Hartnell—

Any girl is entitled to her dreams.

Helen Heidgerken—

One who likes studying but prefers visiting.

Noella Jezegou—

Our "belle charmante" at all activities.

Rose Jurzyniec—

Work fascinates me—I can look at it for hours.

Nettie Legault—

Would be happy if the teachers stopped asking questions.

Delyse Langfield—

Easy come, easy go; perhaps I'll reap what I sow.

Paula Langlais—

Oh! to have eyes in the back of my head.

Betty McCorrian—

A merry young classmate who loves to—debate.

Lorraine McLelland—

A new girl with plenty of gray matter.

The last letter on the pile is always welcome.

GRADE X

Valerie Adams—

Our one and only Shakespeare fan

Will write a play, I know she can.

Shirley Barton—

Obtains a maximum of education with a minimum of effort.

Yvonne Beauchamp—

Laughs a little, giggles some,
Always has her homework done.

Antoinette Bernard—

Never seems morose or fretful,
Let us say she's just forgetful.

Rosemary Burke—

A sophomore with a scholarly mind,
Day by day she sticks to the grind.

Josephine Chauvin—

She doesn't squint nor wear glasses,
Yet she does well in all her classes.

Darlene Clarke—

Knit one, purl two;
That's what Darlene likes to do.

Margot Clermont—

This little girl, tidy and neat,
In popularity cannot be beat.

Shirley Cox—

Kindly, carefree, fond of play—
Why, Shirl, no gum today?

Pat Dufour—

Life is short, so let's be gay
And enjoy it while we may.

Doris Gilbert—

Lost time is never found again.

Bernadette Gleason—

Knowledge in youth brings wisdom in age.

Dora Gropp—

Dora, always with permission,
Wanders slowly on her mission.

Rita Hawka—

Come what, come may,
Please let me have my say.

Josephine Hicke—

Smiling, jovial, helpful Jo
Is the remedy for every woe.

Dorothy Himbeault—

An "all-round" sport she always is.

Therese Jezegou—

Not exactly "la petite",
But somewhat small as well as sweet.

Jean Kanuka—

Always seems to have on hand
A question, when others understand.

Theresa Klein—

Dashes her smiling way through work and play.

Frances Koster—

Francie Koster, slim and tall,
Loves to be playing basketball.

Jacqueline Kraft—

Courtesy pleases much and costs little.

Louanne Kramer—

Louanne Kramer—that's her name,
Keeping quiet is not her aim.

Joan Kriekle—

Really solid to our knowledge,
Just wait till she gets to college!

Kay Leach—

You never know what you can do until you try.

Dorothy Little—

Though our "Little" Scotchman is full of fun,
You never see her on the run.

Grace Lobsinger—

The girl who kills time by working it to death.

Joan McAllister—

Not the type to laugh or riot,
She's just what we call quiet.

Iris McCready—

No matter what the pun, we hear an appreciative giggle from Iris.

Mary Mallaghan—

In thoughts of fun she does abound,
Particularly when pal Jo's around.

Monica Minvielle—

She's new, she's nice,
She's a girl with spice.

Gloria Moran—

Why study Science? I'll leave it to the Einsteins.

Anne Nabess—

Tell another story, Anne, it makes school more interesting.

Rita O'Brien—

Active, interesting, seldom still,
Yet do her best, we know she will.

Eleanor Ober—

If silence is golden, Eleanor must be a multi-millionaire.

Donalda Pendergast—

Donnie, another Grade Ten twin,
A definite goal will surely win.

Sharon Scarfe—

Sharon, a smiling red-haired lass,
Is the live-wire of our class.

Angeline Selenski—

Angeline, quiet and shy,
Has ambitions—oh my!

Rosemary Smith—

Grade Ten clouds have a silver lining—Rosemary.

Kathleen Stewart—

The secret of Kay's success—"It's all done with mirrors."

Mona Totman—

Always willing from the start
In every activity to play a part.

Margaret Ward—

Determination overcomes all obstacles.

GRADE IX

Caroline Baart—

Short and sweet and slow—enough said.

Bernice Blanchette—

If they put a tax on smiles, she'll be bankrupt.

Joan Bilodeau—

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Fellow Students:

The school year is nearly over. Next year will find some of us storing more memories in our treasure book of school days; but to the graduates it will bring new lives, new friends and new experiences. The students who leave Sacred Heart Academy are looking forward to these new feats confidently and calmly, for they know that their last year at school has prepared them for it.

This has been an unforgettable year. Our own little worries and trials are forgotten as we look back with pride at the success that has been ours. We made our debut in organized school bowling with teams from every room participating. In the Inter-collegiate Basketball League, we entered both Seniors and Juniors, wearing new uniforms. They fought hard to bring honor to the school and we are proud of their efforts. Our Glee Club and Drama Club have continued to thrive. We have, for the first time, two representatives on the "Collegiate Reporter". Our Inter-collegiate Debating Teams have done us proud by bringing home the laurels. The Council has enlarged and made the Canteen a "going concern". We must not forget the efforts put forth by the students in cleaning and redecorating this and the Recreation room, the former at Christmas, the latter at Easter. With all these activities, we did not fail in our contributions to the Holy Childhood, the Seminary and the Canadian Appeal for Children.

I wish to thank the executive for its co-operation and assistance in making this another successful year. Yet nothing could have been gained without the whole-hearted co-operation of each and every student.—Thanks!

Our hats go off to the staff of the "Record".

Last, but not least, we thank the faculty, for their generous support in making our work possible.

Here's to a year of lasting memories!

Your S.S.C. President,
MARGARET BRANKIN.

VISIT OF ALUMNAE PRESIDENT

On Tuesday, September 23, we had the privilege of welcoming Mrs. A. W. Hogg, M.A., M.B.E., National President of the Canadian Federation of Convent Alumnae.

Ann Murphy, acting as Mistress of Ceremonies, gave an address of welcome, which was followed by a program of musical numbers by L. Doherty, T. Grimm and the Glee Club, with E. Chisholm and C. Leibel playing the accompaniments. Mrs. Hogg then addressed the assembly, thanking the students for their cordial reception and outlining the scope and aims of the C.F.C.A. First among these aims, the speaker said, is that of bringing into communication the Religious Teaching Communities and the Alumnae Associations of Catholic Convents, Colleges, and Universities, to uphold the ideals of Catholic womanhood, to promote religious and intellectual interests, and to further Catholic education by providing scholarships and bursaries for religious teachers. Further objects of the Federation are the encouragement of Catholic writers, the help of needy missions in their educational work and the sponsoring of Mary's Day Devotion.

Mrs. Hogg spoke, also, of the coming National Convention which will be held in Vancouver in August.

The program closed with "God Save The King." Tea was served in the reception room by the graduating class.

First award in Junior Contest:

CLOUDS

In summer-time when noon is high,
I sit and watch the clouds pass by.
Their feathery lightness out of rank,
Each one different, each one blank
Of harshness, and of greyness, too,
And each one trimmed with sky of blue.

In winter-time when noon is high,
I sit and look up at the sky,
To see those beauties way up there,
To see those snowdrifts bleak and bare.
But they are trimmed with sky of gray,
As they pass by and go their way.

All year I like to sit or lie,
And let those billows catch my eye.
They are like gods of ancient earth,
They have no end, they have no birth,
And when the sun sinks in the west,
Then home to Him they find their rest.

J. HAUGHEY, IX.

Second award:

BASKETBALL

Some girls like to skate,
Others like to ski,
But I think my old basketball
Is good enough for me.

You hop and skip about,
You often take a tumble,
The ball is in, the ball is out,
Two players make a fumble.

Some people who have played this game
Have played with inspiration,
These people often have won fame,
In favor of the nation.

GRADUATION

Graduation! A rose-coloured glory surrounds this word as we, the graduating class of 1948, look forward with restless expectation to the milestone which marks the crossroads of life. We know that we have enjoyed a unique privilege in being able to attend a high school such as our own, but with every privilege that we have received from the hands of God, we have a corresponding duty—the duty to live up to the lofty standards of the Academy. May it be our joy to uphold the splendid reputation of our Alma Mater in our own particular sphere of life. May the example that has been set before us be reflected in our characters always!

There is activity in the air—particularly among Grade XI students, as they excitedly make preparations for a banquet in our honor. The date—that is all we know about it—is set for May 13. Following this there will be Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament in the Academy chapel.

Graduation Day, May 14, will commence with the solemnization of holy Mass by our chaplain, Reverend Father M. F. Daley. At 3 p.m., in the auditorium, the graduation exercises will be held. Reverend Father Daley will be the chairman for the ceremony and Miss Rosemaire O'Flanagan, valedictorian. The graduates, in solemn procession, will enter the auditorium and take the places of honour as Miss Joan Miller plays the traditional Graduation March. We are honoured that His Excellency, Most Reverend M. C. O'Neill will be present and will be the guest speaker of the afternoon. Thank you, Your Excellency, for this mark of personal interest in us.

Word has been received from Miss Jeanne Grimm, newly elected president of the Sacred Heart Academy and College Alumnae Association, that a Graduation Prom is in the offing—as this goes to press, the date is undecided.

We extend heartfelt thanks to alumnists and students for their co-operation in making Graduation a day which will long be remembered and cherished by each one of us. In closing, I would like to thank the members of the faculty for the interest they have taken in all our activities, and for the help they have so freely given us in the pursuit of our academic studies. As we leave the Academy, may we say in parting:

"Here's to the school that looked on our childhood, Here's to the bosom friends dearer than all."

L. DOHERTY, XII.

SEMINARY FUND

Public speaking, dramatic, sewing, and cooking talents were polished up this year, so that our quota for the Seminary fund might be achieved. The Senior Oratorical Contest in November, and the Junior Contest in February, started the fund off to a fine start.

With the co-operation of dramatists and students, we found it possible to attain our objective. One hundred dollars was left at the Chancery Office as a welcoming gift for our new Archbishop, His Excellency, Most Reverend Michael C. O'Neill. Once again some young man shall receive the opportunity to fulfil the words of Our Lord: "Do this in commemoration of Me."

Catholic Book Week owes its true origin to the Beginner of all correct teachings and writings; namely Christ Himself, and to His Apostles. More than a decade ago, Catholic Book Week, as we now know it, originated in the mind of Franklin K. Matthiew, the chief librarian of the Boy Scouts of America. He interested other librarians in the idea of devoting a particular seven-day period of each year to stressing the reading of good books and thereby stemming the illiteracy of boys. He was unable to give a just cause for excluding girls, and the practice became Children's Book Week. Before long, the idea met with such a hearty welcome that Children's Book Week became Book Week, which is nationally being observed from November 9 to November 15, of this year.

The object of Catholic Book Week is to assist in guiding adolescent reading toward the true, the good, and the wholesome, by means of a well-appreciated reading program.

The first public Catholic Book Week in Regina began this year with a Senior Oratorical Contest at the Sacred Heart Academy. The auditorium was decorated with book jackets and Catholic Book Week posters which reminded patrons of the importance of Catholic literature. The latter were designed by members of the art classes. In the poster contest, S. Barton won first prize; S. Farnum, second; and J. Chauvin, third.

During the afternoons of November 10 and 11, books and periodicals were on display. These were arranged according to poetry, fiction, humour, history, biography, religion, mission stories and children's stories. Special honour was paid, both in the display and in the program, to alumnae of the Academy who have become popular writers: Mary Fabyan Windeatt and Mary Lavery.

On November 11, while tea was being served, the following program was presented:

A Catholic Book Week Acrostic .....	Grades IX and X
John Moody .....	M. Pilz
Piano Solo .....	C. Leibel
Rev. Father MacNiel, S.J. ....	P. Brankin
Monologue .....	D. Biegler
Conversion Through Reading .....	C. Leibel
Piano Duet .....	K. Stewart, G. Jacobs
Writers of our Alma Mater .....	C. Langlais
Vocal Solo .....	M. Gazda
St. Ignatius of Loyola .....	P. Langlais
Canadian Catholic Newspapers .....	I. Schmidt
A Living Catholic Author .....	L. Phillips
Guides in the Choice of Literature .....	R. O'Flanagan
Rev. Father Dudley .....	N. Mitchell
G. K. Chesterton .....	L. Ritter

There is no doubt, the exhibit did achieve the purpose of Catholic Book Week—it aroused interest in Catholic literature.

THE RETREAT

Christ's invitation to His Disciples, "Come aside and rest awhile", was once again extended to each of Sacred Heart Academy's two hundred students, as Rev. Father Michael, O.M.I., conducted the exercises of the annual retreat, Feb. 10-12.

Holy Mass, four conferences, rosary, stations of the cross, free time for meditation, and good reading, provided ample opportunity for each one of us to fulfil the main purpose of the retreat—to examine the past in order to prepare for the future. Fr. Michael, in his very instructive talks, left no room for doubt in the mind of any girl regarding her place in the world and her duty as one of Mary's chosen few to uphold the ideal of womanhood. We shall never forget the closing talk, the reminder that our Blessed Mother, our model, should be constantly before us.

We would like to thank Fr. Michael for giving his time so willingly for private interviews. His cheerfulness and helpful guidance will remain with us always.

SODALITY RECEPTION

The feast of the Purification was a blue ribbon day for those who were received into Our Lady's Sodality. The girls, singing "Mother Dear, Oh Pray for Me", slowly entered the dim, candle-lit chapel. The new members, in blue mantles and white veils, and the aspirants (not yet privileged to wear the Sodality mantle) took their places as the Sodalists picked up the beautiful words—"whilst far from heaven and thee" ...

The impressive ceremony was made more memorable by Reverend Father Phelan, who illustrated, by reference to personal experience, the power of prayer to Our Lady. As his quiet voice filled the chapel, all silently pledged themselves to make use of the loving protection which Our Blessed Mother offers her children. All eyes were fixed upon her flower-bedecked shrine as the promises and act of consecration were made. Rev. Father Phelan, assisted by Rev. Father Daley, presented to each member and aspirant the insignia of her reception—the Child of Mary medal. The service ended with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The strains of the closing hymn to Mary, our model and protectress, lingered in the hearts of the girls as they left the chapel.

EXHUMATION ...

August 25, 1947, shall ever remain in the catalogue of Sacred Heart Academy's red letter days; for it marked the official opening of the cause of beatification of Mother Mary of the Heart of Jesus, foundress of the Daughters of Our Lady of the Missions.

Euphrasie Barbier was born on January 4, 1829, at Caen, France. Her missionary order, founded in France, August 15, 1861, has, during her life and since her death, spread to England, Switzerland, New Zealand, Australia, Indo-China, India and Canada. After thirty-two years of intense labour in God's service, she was called to her reward on January 18, 1893. Ten days later her body was buried in a specially constructed vault under the chapel of the convent where she died (Sturry, England).

The process of beatification and, therefore, of canonization, requires the exhumation of the body. With much difficulty the heavy leaden coffin was brought to the surface and placed on the chapel floor. In the presence of representatives of the government, the medical profession, Holy Church, and Sisters of Our Lady of the Missions, the coffin was opened. The body was revealed, after fifty-four years, in a remarkable state of preservation.

The following is an extract from the statement made by the doctors who conducted the examination of the remains:

"The lid of the coffin was raised at 11 a.m., and we made immediate inspection of the contents, namely a clothed body lying supine with the hands clasped and holding a rosary ... The internal furniture of the coffin was damp but intact, as also the external black habit and scapular clothing the body ... There was a remarkable absence of any offensive odour when the coffin was opened ... All the limbs and trunk retained their normal shape and with the exception of two small areas of the frontal bone of the skull no part of the skeleton was visible."

Plans are being made for the transferal of the body to a new leaden coffin which will be deposited in a niche in the sanctuary. We hope that the success of this first step will hasten the process of beatification and that our foundress may, in time, be publicly revered.

MISSIONARY ACTIVITIES

Early last November, Sacred Heart Academy was honoured by the long expected and eagerly awaited visit of the missionary Sisters from far off lands across the waters. Our visitors were: Reverend Mothers M. St. Dionysius, M. St. Antoinette, M. St. Venantius, and M. St. Domitilla, Sisters of Our Lady of the Missions, from India and New Zealand. We did our best to entertain our guests by a reception and program consisting of two plays, namely, "To What Purpose" and "Buried Treasure". There were, also, musical solos and an excellent performance of our Glee Club.

Later the Reverend Mothers visited the classrooms. They related many stories of their interesting and exciting experiences in India, New Zealand, and England. We were told of the work which we, as members of the Holy Childhood Association, have done and still have to do in India. The stories about the numerous poor, unwanted children seemed more realistic when told by one who had worked among them for twenty-five years. Her tales urged us on to greater efforts to help the missions. As a result, eleven pagan babies were ransomed by our contributions and various activities. The money for this was sent to Reverend Father Gerein, Diocesan Director of the Holy Childhood Association. Not satisfied with this, we sent to India several cases of "Klim" for children less fortunate than ourselves.

OPENING OF HOME EC. LAB.

The first week of March saw students of S.H.A. coming to school with egg beaters, oatmeal, corn-starch, cannisters, and even a garbage tin. The reason? They were sponsoring a kitchen shower for their new Home Ec. lab. The big day came on Friday, March 5, when they were to see, for the first time, the completed department. Each class anxiously awaited its turn and no one left disappointed or disillusioned. Parents and friends were given this same opportunity on Sunday, March 8, when the girls, aided by the Sisters, held their annual tea. The gym was daily decorated for the occasion with green and white streamers, harps and shamrocks, truly giving the spirit of St. Patrick. The afternoon was a gala one with two hundred and fifty-four signing the guest register. We are sure many envious housewives left S.H.A. after a peek at the new kitchen.

Enthusiasm remains high as classes begin to make use of the new advantages offered. We feel that the only adequate thanks we can express to those who have contributed so generously toward the establishment of this department is the determination to profit by the practical instruction offered in these new fields. We are, moreover, confident that God, who rewards a cup of cold water given in His Name, will doubly repay the sacrifices and donations made to Him in our interest.

DRAMATICS

Another year of success has attended the Sacred Heart Academy Dramatic Club. Officers of the 1947-48 season were as follows:

President .....	K. Young
Secretary .....	L. Kramer
Treasurer .....	B. McGorrian
Assist.-director .....	D. Biegler
Rep. to S.S.C. ....	M. Stein
Director .....	Sister M. St. Theodora

K. Young
President

The Dramatic Club was happy to welcome, early in the school term, visiting Sisters from India and New Zealand. Two plays were given in their honour: "To What Purpose" and "Buried Treasure".

On Dec. 12 and 14, a Christmas program was presented. Sacred Heart Academy and Champion College combined their talents to entertain friends and students of both schools. S.H.A. presented "Water", a play written by Reverend Father Nelson. This was so well liked that we decided to enter it in the Drama Festival. Champion, on the same evening, presented Dickens' "Christmas Carol", which greatly stimulated the Christmas spirit.

In the Provincial Drama League 'teen-age festival, the Academy's production of "Water" (varied cast) won high praise from the adjudicator. Marie Stein, who played the leading role, was awarded the Thompson Memorial Cup. She was chosen by the adjudicator as the most promising actress, giving as she did, the best technical performance.

The Dramatic Club would like to express its thanks to Reverend Father Nelson for his assistance and encouragement. We thank, also, Mrs. Grimm, who has been most generous in devoting her time to teaching us the art of make-up.

We are sorry to see our senior executive leave: Marie Stein, who has taught us so much; Dorothy Biegler, who, also, offered many worthwhile suggestions; and Kathleen Young, our president.

DEBATING

Early in the school term, Sacred Heart Academy was invited to join the Inter-Collegiate Debating Society, an organization formed, as its name implies, for the purpose of promoting debates between the various high schools of the city.

In one short meeting our school Debating Club was organized. A very wise man once said, "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." I wonder what he would have said had he known the topics we chose to discuss. They included the legalization of Euthanasia, the value of Atomic Power to society, and the adoption of a system of Compulsory Military Training. Hours were spent in poring over books and newspapers, in peppering people with questions, in discussions—not always peaceful—and in acquiring information by various other means.

Our first debate on the resolution that Euthanasia should be legalized was held Feb. 4, in the Academy auditorium. Bob Webb was chairman. Betty Larrimer, Ed Smith, and Norm Sanderson from Scott Collegiate more than adequately upheld the affirmative; Shirley Fahlman, Betty McGorrian and Marie Stein maintained the negative for our school. After considerable deliberation the judges, Mrs. S. Murphy, Mr. W. L. Hipperson and Mr. B. White, announced the decision in favour of Sacred Heart Academy. School spirit was in evidence as the walls resounded to "Shakespeare, Masefield," etc.

The next debate was held in the auditorium of Balfour Technical School on the proposition "Resolved that the discovery of Atomic Power was beneficial to mankind." Mr. Currie was chairman. Shirlimae Grain, Glenn Sage and Doug. Horan, the Balfour speakers for the affirmative, based their arguments on the marvellous opportunities atomic energy has unfolded for society. Our team, consisting of Toni Grimm, Rosemaire O'Flanagan and Betty McGorrian, very capably argued for the negative, proving their points conclusively, backing their statements with authoritative quotations and statistics. This time the judges, Mr. W. L. Hipperson, Mr. J. Goetz, and Mr. W. R. Lawson, again announced the decision in favour of the negative, awarding us a place in the semi-finals with Central Collegiate. Once more we thank S.H.A. supporters for turning out in such large numbers.

The semi-finals were held in our auditorium, April 14. The chairman was Bill Martinson. Mrs. S. Murphy, Mr. W. Lloyd Hipperson and Mr. Alex Aitken were judges. The proposition was "Resolved that Canada should adopt a system of compulsory military training for one year for boys between the ages of eighteen and twenty. Dick Spencer, Neil McKay and Jack McLeod, speaking for the affirmative, supported their contention admirably with adequate proof. Deserving of special mention was Dick Spencer, leader of the Central team. His rebuttal was of an exceptionally high standard. Representing our school were Shirley Fahlman, Betty McGorrian and Marie Stein, arguing for the negative. The battle was fierce and hot, but the Academy was awarded the decision by a close margin.

Now we are in the finals against the debaters of Campion College. The winner of the next debate will receive the City Inter-Collegiate Championship and the Walter Eilers Trophy; but win or lose, we have benefited greatly in knowledge of current events, in public speaking experience, and most of all, in school spirit.

ORATORY

Sunday, November 9, was the night of the Senior Oratorical Contest, held in the Sacred Heart Academy auditorium. Six contestants, beautifully attired in colorful, floor-length gowns, vied for top honors. Misses D. Biegler, M. Stein, L. Doherty, B. McGorrian, B. Street and D. Langfield, delivered well-prepared and inspiring speeches on the following topics: Books Control the Future; A Guardian of the Future; Christ's Voice in the World Today; Does It Matter What You Read?; Christian Books—Stepping Stones to World Unity; and Christian Books—Key to Successful Living.

D. Biegler

Reverend Father Nelson, S.J., Mrs. S. Murphy and Mrs. T. Burke had the colossal task of selecting the winning speaker. Father Nelson, speaking on behalf of the judges, announced the first prize winner as Dorothy Biegler, who was awarded the Oratory Shield by Reverend Father Daley, which was donated to the school by last year's graduating class. Second prize, an Academy crest, went to Marie Stein.

Misses C. Leibel, J. Miller and J. Kriekle charmingly entertained the audience with musical selections.

Sunday, February 29, gave the Junior classes an opportunity to show their ability, and six girls took part. Misses L. Rigelhof, M. Rogers, D. Clarke, J. Haughey, G. Lobsinger and J. Street delivered speeches on the following: The Meaning of Lourdes; Vocations; The Catholic Press; Will Communism Prevail?; Canada's Uncrowned Saint; and Choosing a Career.

J. Haughey

Reverend Father Shaughnessy, S.J., Mr. J. P. Miller and Mr. J. Deis awarded the first prize, a silver crucifix, to Jeanette Haughey, and to Darlene Clarke, the second prize, an Academy crest.

Misses C. O'Brien, J. Miller, R. Desautels and L. Doherty provided harmonious variety to the evening's entertainment.

SPORTS

The season opened with a great number of eager girls, entering every field of sport, aiming at and working for the championship.

BASKETBALL

Not satisfied with only a Senior basketball team, we hoped for greater acclaim by entering a Junior team in the Inter-Collegiate Basketball League, Both, coached by G. Kroeter, distinguished themselves by their accurate passing and timing. Senior and Junior teams had grand school spirit and went down fighting hard. The new Junior uniforms, we believe, gave us courage and brought us victory, for the girls not only seemed sure of themselves but proved it. The Juniors, who now have experience as well as spirit and skill, have great hopes for next year and are resolved to accept nothing less than the coveted trophy for their efforts.

SOFTBALL AND TRACK

As we usher in spring with a smile, we also make plans for our softball and track teams. The girls, mingling hard work with a lot of fun, look forward to some exciting softball games. In the track and field meet, we hope that after limbering up our muscles, we will "get right in there and shine." Intending to enter both of these teams in the Inter-Collegiate Leagues, we find that they have a spirit that cannot be equalled. So, with this in mind, we hope to be triumphant.

SENIORS

Back row (left to right):

C. Himbeault, B. Gropp.

Front row:

E. Sibbitt, J. Hicke, J. Kleisinger,
K. Young, D. Baart.

TENNIS

Starting out with light hearts, our tennis enthusiasts were overjoyed with the glorious autumn weather of the first weeks of September; but as usual the snow just couldn't stay away until the tournament was over—it just had to come when we were least expecting it. Thus it happened that we were unable to find out who the lucky person to carry away the honors would be. Although we were dejected, we feel confident that next year "Old Man Winter" will be on our side. So, with "his" consent, our trim little athletes will be out early in September, to show us what they can do.

GLEE CLUB NOTES

Joan Miller
President

The ever mounting interest in music displayed by students in the past years has at last obtained recognition, for music has taken its place on the time-table as one of the options in Grades IX and X. With more time for rehearsal, the Glee Club has been able to extend its repertoire so as to be ever-ready when called upon to perform at public functions.

Almost every month of the term has seen our choral group, in school uniform, contributing its bit to some program. Besides school functions, it appeared on the programs of the Rotary Choir Festival, the Catholic Choir Festival, the Registered Music Teachers' Recital, and the Academy Students' Music Recital—all of which were held in the Darke Hall.

We feel a very justifiable pride in the fact that ours is the only high school Glee Club that has a student conductor. Our genial and very able leader, Toni Grimm, has spent much time and energy in polishing up our group to its present high standard of performance.

It gave us all much pleasure to know that Toni's musical efforts were crowned with success when she appeared in the finals of the CKCK auditions and was awarded a seventy-five dollar scholarship.

The Glee Club has helped to establish school spirit, not only among its own members, but also among the rest of the student body, and has given every participant experiences which will prove a real asset in later life.

JOAN MILLER, IX.

Mother M. St. Dionysius from India, and Rev. Mothers M. St. Antoinette, M. St. Venantius, and M. St. Domitilla from New Zealand.

Nov. 6—Rev. Mother M. St. Dionysius, Provincial Superior of India, kept us all entranced, on this her final visit to our school, as she, dressed in her white habit, told tales of distant India.

Nov. 9—The Senior Oratorical Contest which took place in our auditorium, with Rev. Father Daley as chairman, appropriately began National Catholic Book Week. Six orators used their talents to convince a large audience of the value of good literature in our modern age. Miss D. Biegler received the coveted Oratorical Shield, which had been presented by the 1947 graduating class. Miss M. Stein took second honors.

Nov. 10-11—A brilliant book display for National Catholic Book Week attracted a great many to our gym. Short speeches were given throughout the afternoon of Tuesday and a delicious lunch was served.

Nov. 13—Have you any shoe-buttons, false teeth, red shoe laces? Absurd as it may seem, that's what we wanted, for all S.H.A. was out on a hilarious scavenger hunt. Although people looked at us queerly, they gladly parted with their precious possessions — orange peelings and bread crusts. The winners were rewarded with delicious ice-cream, but why was it all on the floor? Could it be because they were feeding each other blindfolded? Yes—we remember cleaning it up. The S.S.C. party was indeed a success.

Nov. 18—Our Senior Basketball team got away to a start (not saying whether good or bad) by playing Regina College. The score—well, we forget!

Nov. 20—Here comes the bride! Due to Princess Elizabeth getting married, we get a holiday.

Nov. 25—The second basketball game—against Scott this time.

Dec. 1—Reverend Mother M. St. Andrew's feast day celebrated.

Dec. 4—News reached Regina today that Msgr. M. C. O'Neill, rector of St. Joseph's Cathedral, Edmonton, has been appointed Archbishop of Regina. Congratulations!

Dec. 6—To the rhythmic strains of "Skater's Waltz", S.H.A. and Campion students glided across the ice at the Campion Sodality's novel skating party. Dancing and lunch followed.—Thanks, Campion!

Dec. 12-14—With the co-operation of Reverend Father Nelson and Sister M. St. Theodora (and the actresses and actors, of course) Sacred Heart Academy and Campion College presented two plays, "Water" and Dickens' "Christmas Carol". Proceeds went towards Seminary and Drama funds.

Dec. 12—Every year around this time a wonderful event takes place at S.H.A. Yes, it's close to Christmas—but it isn't Santa Claus. You guessed it—exams!!

Dec. 19—Finis—well, 'till Jan. 7, anyway.

Dec. 25—Need we say more?

Dec. 26-31—A cake of soap, a can of paint, and a lot of flashy pennants turned our canteen into a teen-agers rendezvous. Thanks to Ann, Cathy and Dot for giving it the "New Look".

Jan. 30—Basketball game at Scott. Our Seniors went down fighting; but our Juniors won their game with a score of 39-29.

Feb. 4—Our debating team (M. Stein, S. Fahlman and B. McGorrian), ably upholding the negative of the resolution, "Resolved that voluntary euthanasia should be legalized", defeated Scott Collegiate in the first round of inter-collegiate debates.

Feb. 10—St. Valentine's Day comes but once a year, so our S.S.C. decided to make the best of it. Result—a delicious banquet at noon today, due to Lent beginning on the morrow. In the afternoon we welcomed Reverend Father Michael for the introductory sermon of our retreat.

Feb. 11-13—Three days of inspiration were ours in this our annual retreat. We wish to thank Father Michael for his guidance during these three days set aside for prayer and meditation.

Feb. 17—Ours was the privilege of having a most interesting visitor—Rev. Father Carroll of Campion College. During his instruction to the Seniors, he told tales of his extensive travels.

Mar. 6—Congratulations to Marie Stein for her leading role in "Water", for which she won the "most promising actress" trophy at the annual Drama Festival. Our thanks also to a fine supporting cast: Rosemary Smith, Joan Kriekle, Rosemary Burke and Kathleen Stewart.

Mar. 7—Shamrocks and harps gaily decorated the Academy auditorium for our annual Students' Tea. But this year we have something new to offer—yes—a splendid new Home Ec. Lab., completely furnished with all necessary utensils. Those who visited it agreed that its convenient and modern equipment makes it the ideal domestic science room for the young girl.

Mar. 9—The students turned out for the Bryant Oratorical Contest. Our representative, Jeannette Haughey, spoke on "Communism".

Mar. 16—Today we took a journey into the past—all the way back to the time of Our Lord. We followed Him to Calvary and wept with His Mother, as we watched Him mercilessly crucified. Thanks to Cecil B. De Mille for bringing to the screen, "The King of Kings".
